More space for Foreign Trade Zone is approved

The U.S. Department of Commerce, Foreign Trade Zones Board, has announced its approval of the expansion of Foreign Trade Zone 31 in Granite City to warehouse facilities at 1100 Niedringhaus Ave. Foreign Trade Zone 31 is now operated by Fox Industries, Inc., from a site at 1803 State St.

The Tri-City Regional Port District, which holds the federal license or grant of authority to operate a Foreign Trade Zone within the St. Louis Port of Entry, applied to the Foreign Trade Zones Board for the site expansion in September 1984.

THE U.S. Foreign Trade Zone program allows companies involved in international business, special U.S. Customs procedures and cost-saving benefits by operating within a Foreign Trade Zone site. There are now 111 approved Foreign Trade Zones within the United States. The Foreign Trade Zones program's leading objective is to retain American jobs by allowing a company no assessment of U.S. Customs duty on value added on products manufactured, assembled or processed in Foreign Trade Zones, including the labor, overhead costs and profits of the value added.

There are many ways a company can use Foreign Trade Zone procedures in their operation, including deferral of duty on foreign goods within the zone until the goods leave the designated zone area, reduction or elimination of duty on products manipulated, processed, assembled or manufactured in the Foreign Trade Zone by paying duty on parts or finished products, whichever is less, and others.

Bob Wydra, manager of Foreign Trade Zone 31 and assistant general manager for the Tri-City Regional Port District, said, "Expansion of the authorized zone space by 229,000 square feet at the 1100 Niedringhaus Ave. location will not only allow us to keep pace with the increasing demand for space, but will allow us to better meet the needs of new and existing zone users because of the design, layout and other physical features and services available at the expansion site.

IN ADDITION to the 229,000 square feet of existing buildings which are now approved for use as Foreign Trade Zone 31, the port has an approved 47-acre vacant site adjacent to the port's harbor complex, which is available for future expansion. The Port also holds the Foreign Trade Zone license and aided the creation of a Foreign Trade Zone Sub-Zone for the Chrysler automotive assembly plant in Fenton, Mo.

Rich Kearns, president of Fox Industries, Inc., whose company operates the existing State Street Foreign Trade Zone facility and the new site, both in Granite City, indicated, "The initial user of the expansion site facility will be a major automotive parts supplier." Since January of 1981, Fox Industries, Inc., has served as operator of the Foreign Trade Zone. Fox Industries, as zone operator, has the ability to coordinate, process, receive and release dozens of shipments per day, making the recently-approved site extremely attractive to firms involved in international trade, Kearns said.

BALLOT PLACEMENT DETERMINED. Madison City Clerk John Belloff, right, announces this morning that the Madison Improvement Party will be placed first on the April 2 ballot in the city-wide elections. Phyllis Moore, center, a dispatcher for the Madison Police Department, picked the name from a hat during a lottery at 9 a.m. today, made necessary by the simultaneous filing of the two parties for the city election. At left is acting Mayor Thomas Gordon, who heads the Madison Improvement Party slate. Belloff also is a candidate for mayor and heads the New Life Party. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

Lotteries determine ballot positions for April 2 election

A lottery drawing at 9 a.m. today at the Madison City Hall for the ballot position of party candidates in the April 2 election determined the Madison Improvement Party will be first and the New Life Party, second. Phyllis Moore, police dispatcher, drew the party name from a hat.

Acting Mayor Thomas S. Gordon, is running for the office of mayor on the Madison Improvement Party and incumbent City Clerk John N. Belloff is candidate for mayor on the New Life Party.

In a lottery drawing Friday, Jan. 25, at the Namek Township office, Madison County Circuit Judge William E. Johnson drew the lot to determine that the Citizens Action Party, led by Trustee Helen Hawkins for supervisor, will be listed at the top of the ballot. The Township Improvement Party, led by incumbent Supervisor Harry Briggs, will be listed next on the ballot. Both parties filed simultaneously on Jan. 14.

At the close of the filing period Monday evening, the mayor's race in Granite City had widened to five candidates.

Mac Warfield, superintendent of streets, announced Monday afternoon that he had turned in the necessary petitions to file. Also running for mayor will be the incumbent, Mayor Paul Schuler, Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruise and Edward Jelf.

Both incumbents in the city clerk's and city treasurer's race, Robert W. Stevens and Nick Petrillo, will run unopposed in the April election.

In the First Ward, incumbent Casmer Skubish will be challenged by William A. Dalton and Charles W. Hamilton.

In the Second Ward, Harlan L. Dickey will try to unseat incumbent Fred "Mac" Schumacher.

The race for the Third Ward aldermanic position will pit Brett L. Ranke and Beverly Schutzenhofer against incumbent Carl Kille.

Incumbent Fourth Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak will try to retain her office against competition from Robert Bell and Robert J. Malott.

Fifth Ward Alderman Jack Varadian will run uncontested for reelection.

The Sixth Ward race widened to three persons Monday, with Donald E. Keeling Sr., and Judy J. Whitaker, vying for the aldermanic spot against incumbent Stephen Satch.

The Seventh Ward race will feature three newcomers to the council, since incumbent Bowler is running for the office of mayor. Those filing for the office are John "Jeff" Worthen, Donald Stucke and Peter G. Kraus.

MADISON

There are no changes in the two slates in Madison.

Those who filed under the 'New Life Party' were incumbent City Clerk John N. Belloff, for mayor; William "Bill" Wiedner, clerk; Fred A. Bathon, treasurer; James "Jim" Hillmer, first ward alderman; incumbent Christ Costoff, second ward; Don Wilson, third ward; and incumbent Charles Rockett, fourth ward.

The Madison Improvement Party lists Thomas S. Gordon for mayor; Richard O. Harper Jr., clerk; incumbent Hilbert Hoekstra, treasurer; incumbent Andrew Economy, first ward alderman; James Riskovsky Sr., second ward; incumbent Ida Dant, third ward; and Lenora Lockett, fourth ward.

CITY OF VENICE

None of the Venice candidates who filed petitions indicating they will seek a specific office in the April 2 election has submitted a withdrawal statement, Venice Controller Rossam Koecker said today.

In the race, incumbent Mayor Tyrone Echols will be opposed by Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr.

Alderman John T. Fleig, First Ward incumbent, will have competition from Earl W. Hogan, who is seeking the same office, and incumbent Alderman Hank A. Svezia will be opposed in the Second Ward by Richard King.

Incumbent Alderman Charles Haynes of the Fourth Ward has opposition from Henry Fletcher, who is vying for the same post. Incumbent Third Ward Alderman John Ervin is unopposed.

All the incumbent city officials in Venice filed on a Citizens' Progressive Party ticket, including City Clerk Ralph D. Brawley and J. Alan Gardner Sr., city treasurer, both of whom have no opposition.

PONTON BEACH

A party of incumbents and one independent have filed to run for offices in Ponton Beach.

Seeking election April 2 on the Village Improvement Party are Village Board President Glen Wilson, seeking election to his appointed two-year position; Trustee Lou Whitsell, seeking election to his appointed two-year position; Trustee Donald C. Rea, seeking reelection to his four-year post; and Trustee Robert E. Vincent, seeking reelection to his four-year post.

Village Clerk Mary Warren has filed to run for village board president.

Former village building inspector Ben McMillan took out a petition but failed to file by the Jan. 21 deadline. Earlier, he had told the Press-Record (Continued on Page 6)

Who's in charge of Barton trial?

James Barton, Don Weber. Complexity.

The three have been interwoven in Madison County news for several years and are still in the headlines. Aided by Madison County circuit judges and other persons, the complexity continues to increase in what once was an investigation by Weber, then state's attorney of Barton, then the county's supervisor of assessments.

TO HELP CLARIFY who is in charge of a pending trial, Circuit Judge Dennis Cashman of Quincy has asked the Illinois Supreme Court administrative staff to determine whether he retains jurisdiction. It was Cashman who appointed Bruce D. Locher of Springfield as special prosecutor.

One of the developments that must be ruled upon is defense lawyers' attempt to remove Locher from the case.

They contend he is allowing Weber to control the prosecution, an allegation both Locher and Weber deny.

ANOTHER EFFORT at simplification is being made by a former Weber assistant state's attorney, Marshall "Zeke" Smith.

Smith has asked Cashman to call a meeting of the principals for possible plea negotiations to eliminate the need for—and cost of—a trial. Cashman does not plan to reply, at least for the time being.

With six defendants and a 46-count assessment bribery indictment, separation of trials and counts may be sought. Smith said the overall cost could deplete county funds, including those budgeted for the office of state's attorney.

Charge man with child pornography

Arrested Thursday for questioning, Charles L. Miller, 48, of 2107 11th Ave. has been charged with child pornography and aggravated criminal sexual abuse.

A relative of a 13-year-old Granite City girl provided evidence, turning in 13 nude photographs of the child, allegedly taken by Miller. In addition, police made use of a search warrant to enter his home at 5 p.m. Thursday.

THE PHOTOGRAPHY is believed to have taken place on Jan. 20. The mother learned of it later and contacted police Thursday afternoon.

Held on a delinquency charge, the girl was transferred Thursday to the Madison County juvenile detention home.

In a court appearance Friday afternoon before Associate Judge Wendell Durr, Miller submitted no plea. Bond was set at $100,000, or $10,000 cash bail, and he was taken Saturday to the Madison County jail.

Mitchell firefighters reject plan for local ambulance co.

The Mitchell, Fire Protection District volunteers met to discuss the possibility of creating an ambulance service for Chouteau Township and after reviewing a cost estimate, decided it was not a feasible project.

Fire Chief Lee Paul noted the cost of an ambulance vehicle without significant life support systems or other equipment would cost at least $35,000 and, in his opinion, in order to provide effective ambulance service, it would be necessary to have two vehicles, with one available for backup in the event the other was on a call or out of service.

"AT THE present time, the fire protection district does not have garage or station space to accommodate additional vehicles or sleeping quarters for ambulance personnel," he explained.

Those attending the meeting agreed that to have such a service, the district would have to engage not less than six and perhaps as many as eight or 10 individuals to be attendants and drivers. State regulations are stringent in terms of both requirements for the vehicles used, as well as training for the personnel operating the ambulance.

On the advice of an attorney for the district, the fire department volunteers agreed that it is not financially feasible to proceed with the idea unless a proposition is put before the voters prior to the November election to fund the service.

ASSUMING THE proposition to impose an ambulance tax were approved it would be at least 18 months before any revenues would be generated by such a tax to fund an ambulance service through the fire protection district.

The report was presented to the Chouteau Board of Trustees, who agreed the fire district could not financially support an ambulance service without a separate tax levy.

The township residents do have the option of calling the Wood River Township Ambulance service in the event of an emergency or by paying Campbell Ambulance Service an fee of $25 a year to be eligible for that service. However, the $25 would not be applied to the total cost of any ambulance calls.

OPERATION SNOWBALL. About 80 students and adults participate in the third annual Granite City Operation Snowball program conducted Saturday at the Granite City Township Hall. TAKE AIR COMPRESSOR IN GARAGE BURGLARY

Jim Cavaness, 3116 Jill Ave., reported last week that an air compressor valued at $500, an air spray gun worth $65 and a grinder valued at $130 were among the items taken in the burglary of his home's garage.

Also missing were an impact wrench valued at $50, a compression tester worth $15, two socket wrench sets and three drive ratchets. A 1970 Dodge parked inside the garage also was entered and ransacked, he said. A complete inventory was being compiled.

Silver Bells reorganize

The Venice Silver Bell Senior Citizens held a reorganizational meeting last week at the Venice Senior Citizens' Community Center, Brown and Klein streets.

Highlighting the event were the election of new officers, discussion of bylaws and setting a new date for the club's monthly business sessions.

Elected to lead the group in 1985 were:

Gertrude Young, president; Elmira White, vice president; Gladys Williams, recording secretary; Bessie Williams, assistant recording secretary; Helen R. King, corresponding secretary; Lucille Green, financial secretary; Frankie Griggs, treasurer; DeLila Ackers, chaplain; Rosie Lee Jackson, assistant chaplain, and Lawrence Riley, transportation chairman.

Those named to office will comprise the club's board of directors, together with four additional members-at-large as yet to be selected.

The Silver Bell Seniors will hold future business meetings on the second Thursday of each month, commencing Feb. 14, Mrs. Young announced.

However, the community center building will continue to be open daily, Monday through Friday, for the regular lunch program, as well as for handicraft and recreation sessions she added.

Present Silver Bell members and potential members are being encouraged to pay their 1985 club dues to Mrs. Green, financial secretary.

Mrs. Young urged all members and others interested in joining the organization to come out and help make 1985 an enjoyable and successful year by taking part in any or all of the varied activities now being offered.

A Valentine party is being planned for Thursday, Feb. 14, immediately following the business session, she advised.

DRIVER STOPS AUTO 30 INCHES FROM TRAIN

Paula Denise Barnoski, 19, of St. Louis, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol at 4 a.m. Sunday after her auto just missed striking a train crossing Edwardsville Road near 14th Street.

Miss Barnoski's car, heading east on Edwardsville Road, ran off the roadway at the tracks as a Granite City Steel train was traveling across the highway.

The car veered to the left, apparently to avoid striking other vehicles waiting for the train to clear, and then ran over a metal railroad sign, officers' reports said.

The auto came to a halt about 30 inches from the moving train, it was noted.

Bitten severely by dog, man admitted for surgery

Bitten severely on the left hand at 5:25 p.m. Thursday, Jimmy Creek, 2012 Cleveland Blvd., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for surgery.

Bleeding profusely, he suffered a half-dozen gashes on the palm and fingers, several of the wounds exposing bones.

He had gone to his back yard to place trash in cans near a fence along the southwestern side of the property. A dog placed his paws on the fence, leaped across it and bit him, Creek related.

RELEASED ON BOND

Jeffrey A. Bosley, 17, of 2546 Pontoon Road, came to police headquarters at 10 p.m. Friday in response to the issuance of a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a charge of resisting arrest. He posted a $200 cash bond and was released pending a new hearing date.

News notes

Leadership Council-Southwestern Illinois tomorrow will announce a regional site proposal for a General Motors Saturn assembly plant. The plan is being sent to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs for the Madison St. Clair county area. Potential locations include Glen Carbon, Troy, O'Fallon and Belleville, and Sen. Sam Vadalabene is among those pushing for selection of Southwestern Illinois. Joseph Sanchez, 54, appointed this month to head the Saturn car project, died Saturday night after suffering heart attacks Tuesday and Friday.

The Illinois Citizens Utility Board said today Illinois Power's $139 million electric rate increase request is "totally unwarranted." The board is enclosing with IP bills in February a folder assailing cost rises at the Clinton nuclear plant site.

Surgett, at the Binney wing's first floor in St. Elizabeth Medical Center, will hold an open house from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 10.

Metropolitan area jobless rose from 7 percent in November to 7.5 percent in December.

James R. Thompson, first Illinois governor to win three consecutive terms, will decide early this summer whether to seek a fourth term.

Special prosecutor denies alleged link

Special Prosecutor Bruce D. Locher of Springfield formally denied Thursday that former State's Attorney Dan Weber is controlling the investigation of Madison County assessment practices.

A Circuit Court motion by the special prosecutor rejects the allegation that Locher and Weber have been collaborating on the case. Locher has said he is in charge of the prosecution and wants the trial of six persons to be conducted by a judge from outside the 3rd and 20th circuits.

Removal of Locher is being sought by lawyers for defendants in the alleged conspiracy to sell real estate valuation reductions. Locher wants the removal issue decided by a judge who is not from Madison County. He contends there is too much friendship between judges and defendants.

Chief Criminal Court Judge Philip J. Rarick received Locher's motion Thursday. He set no date for a hearing to consider the motions to remove Locher.

To hear arguments for and against removing Locher, the special prosecutor proposes that Circuit Judge Dennis Cushman of Quincy preside. It was Cushman who appointed Locher early last year who in November blocked an effort by Madison County judges to cut short the assessment inquiry.

A September assessment bribery indictment then was expanded in December.

Locher indicated he is preparing to file additional motions of an unspecified nature.

'Flashdance' slated this week at SIUE

"Flashdance" (PG) is scheduled for viewing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 and 2.

The film will be shown Jan. 31 at 2:30 p.m., Feb. 1 at 7 and 9:30 p.m., and Feb. 2 at 7 p.m. All showings will be in the Science Building auditorium.

TICKETS ARE $1 for SIUE students with identification and $1.50 for non-students. Tickets may be purchased in the University Center's Union Station.

Directed by Adrian Lyne, the movie stars Jennifer Beals, Michael Nouri, Belinda Bauer and Lila Skala.

A box-office smash, "Flashdance" centers around the world of dance. The film features vibrant performances at Mawdy's Bar, where aspiring dancers earn money by performing elaborate, flashy, high-tech stunts. Director Lyne mingles drama with dance to delight audiences with the coming-of-age of a young woman's coming of age.

INQUIRIES CONCERNING the film scheduled by the SIUE Student Program Board may be obtained by calling 1-822-2617.

Economic development seminar slated Jan. 30

"Allies and Communities—Partners in Prosperity Development and Handling" is the title of an economic development seminar slated for 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 30, at the Holiday Inn in Collinsville. The program, sponsored by the Economic Development Community of Southwestern Illinois, is geared toward members of local economic development organizations and others interested in the economic development of Southwestern Illinois.

The agenda calls for cocktails from 5:30 to 6 p.m., dinner from 6 to 7 p.m. and the seminar program from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Cost is $10 per person.

Further information is available by contacting Pat Hughes at 1-822-3688.

DUI actions

— Michael S. Cross, 33, of 1959 Poplar St., arrested at East 20th Street and Missouri Avenue last week. Police alleged seeing his car speeding, fashinating and spinning on slippery roads. Cross also was charged with speeding and two counts of disobeying traffic control devices. He consented to take a breathalyzer test and was released after posting a $102 cash bond.

— David Schulte, 24, of Granite City, arrested by Caseyville police last week on the exit ramp of Interstate 64 at Route 157 after police received a CB report that he was driving westbound in the eastbound lanes. He also was charged with possession of marijuana and driving in the wrong lane.

Drivers' licenses revoked for convictions of driving under the influence of alcohol included those of:

Gary M. Gibbons, 21, of 915 Reynolds St., Madison. He was arrested July 23, 1984.

Tommy R. Hornbeak, 20, of Rural Route Three, Lake Drive, Lot 3, Pontoon Beach. He was arrested Dec. 2, 1984.

Vicki L. Singleton, 22, of 2307 Woodlawn Ave. She was arrested Oct. 14, 1984.

VENICE FILES DUI

THREE OTHER CHARGES

After clocking a blue pickup truck traveling west on Broadway at alleged speeds of 55 mph at 5 a.m. Saturday, a Venice police radar operator halted the vehicle on South Fourth Street at the Wiggins Highline.

Herman W. Schoeber, 18, of 2322 Westmoreland Drive, driver of the vehicle, allegedly declined to take a blood alcohol test and was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, speeding, reckless driving and a stop sign violation.

He was freed at 11:20 a.m. Saturday after posting his driver's license and a $402 cash bond. He is to appear in court Feb. 15.

FOURTH WARD RESIDENTS DISCUSS TRUCK TRAFFIC

North Granite and Nameoki Drive residents are being invited to attend a meeting on Saturday, Feb. 2, to discuss truck traffic. The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. in the second floor courtroom at City Hall, 2000 Edison Ave.

According to Sharon Perjak, Fourth Ward alderman, a representative of Perryway Steel will be present at the meeting to answer questions.

REESE PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

The "implied-consent" law provides that any person who drives a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state shall be considered to have given his consent to a chemical test of blood, breath or urine for the purposes of determining the alcohol content of the person's blood. Illinois has adopted this law to assist in determining whether drivers are in fact under the influence of alcohol. It should be noted that any person who is arrested for driving under the influence and who refuses to submit to the breathalyzer or blood test will have his license suspended for six months.

Sometimes the situation arises wherein the arrested person is unconscious or otherwise incapable of submitting to the breathalyzer test. This test is considered a refusal, which will result in a suspension of his driver's license. Up until 1983, Illinois law provided that any person who was unconscious was considered to have withdrawn his consent. This would automatically result in the loss of driving privileges under the prior law. New legislation, however, provides that in this situation such a person shall not be considered to have withdrawn his consent.

In February of 1983, a driver was arrested and charged with Driving Under the Influence. At the police station, the officer requested that the defendant take a breathalyzer test and the defendant refused. Subsequent to this, the defendant became unconscious and passed out. The officer never asked the defendant to give samples of his blood or urine.

The trial court determined that under the new law, the officer in this situation was not obligated to only offer a breathalyzer test. The trial judge felt that the unconscious person must be taken to a hospital in this case for a blood test to be administered involuntarily on the defendant if necessary.

The state appealed this case and argued that there was no obligation on the officer to administer a blood test when the person was incapable of taking a breathalyzer test. The Appellate Court agreed with the state in this situation. The Appellate Court noted that the law enforcement agency employing the arresting officer has a right to determine which of the tests shall be administered to the arrested person. In this case, the defendant was asked to take a "breathalyzer" test by the arresting officer, and therefore there was no obligation to go one step further and offer a blood test after the driver passed out.

Savings for taxpayers in county negotiations

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Trade-offs in the new Madison County governmental employees' contract are being praised as helpful to both the county and the workers. Whether current county highway talks also will succeed remains uncertain.

Chairman of both series of negotiations on behalf of the Madison County Board is Herbert "Junior" Milton, leader of the board's negotiating committee. MILTON ESTIMATES 14 bargaining sessions took place, often lasting nine, 12 and even 16 hours, during development of the new agreement with Local 799 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. Savings for the public will total many thousands of dollars, he asserts.

Teamsters Local 525, representing employees of the county highway department, will vote on a contract proposal prior to the Feb. 20 Madison County Board meeting. Details were outlined at a bargaining session Jan. 18 and are to be reviewed by the Teamster negotiating team with union members (25 highway workers and two animal control employees).

There have been some rumblings of a strike or other "job action" if the county does not continue paying the full cost of health insurance for Teamsters.

WITH NO AGREEMENT reached, even tentatively, some of the items in the negotiations have been described as sufficiently attractive to justify a rank-and-file discussion and vote.

Highway employees have continued to work without a new pact for the fiscal year that began Dec. 1. The previous contract was for three years.

The new two-year agreement affecting 377 county workers was ratified by the board Jan. 16. Sheriff Employees are covered by a multi-year contract that did not expire this winter.

ALTHOUGH WAGES were increased 41 cents an hour the first year and will rise 34 cents in the second year, after a previous freeze, the AFSCME contract also reflects consideration for taxpayers, Milton believes.

For comprehensive major medical and health insurance, a new provision lists 80 percent county payment and 20 percent employee payment for coverage under certain situations. It provides for deductible amounts of $200 on individuals and $600 on families, Milton said.

Other basic benefits remain the same, and entry-level salaries in all job categories are reduced, by amounts varying from $1,639 to $3,272.

SOME CLERICAL workers will begin at $9,330 a year instead of the previous $12,603, which now becomes the third-year level (after second-year pay of $11,030). Top pay, in the 12th year, is $19,385.

A classification that had begun at $12,875 now ranges from $10,759 at the entry level to $19,156 in the 12th year. Another that started at $12,833 now varies from $11,194 in the first year to $16,972 in the ninth year.

Employees in the highest category will start at $13,021 instead of $15,475, attaining $25,459 in the 11th year.

No current employees received pay cuts. A PROBATIONARY pay scale calls for 70 percent of the new entry-level wage for the first 90 days of employment, 80 percent for the next 90 days and 90 percent for the following 90 days, with 100 percent pay after 270 days.

The new AFSCME agreement adds a paragraph saying that the county "upon providing 48 hours' notice may establish flexible starting and/or quitting times for some employees within a department—except that such flexible times shall not be more than three hours before nor more than one hour after normal starting and quitting times, except by mutual agreement of the employer and the union."

In the event of a layoff not exceeding one year, the county will allow immediate reinstatement of health insurance benefits for a returning employee.

"NO EMPLOYEE will be required to cross a strike picket line. But if construction workers and/or county employees establish pickets, employees shall enter at entrances agreed to between the county and construction company and/or the recognized county employee bargaining agent for that purpose," the agreement says.

Employees not members of the union will pay a proportionate share of the cost of collective bargaining, contract administration and handling of matters affecting wages, hours and employment conditions. In the event of religious tenets that bar such a payment, the share will go to a non-religious charity mutually agreed upon by the employee and the union.

Meanwhile, proposals to the Teamsters have not been announced but some say they include no pay hike in the first year, with hourly boosts of 34 cents and 38 cents in second and third years.

INDICATIONS ARE that the county does not want to pay more than the current cost of $39.50 a week for health insurance during the next three years.

Teamsters might be willing to settle for 0.38-cent hourly pay raise patterns over three years but are said to want the county to make $45, $50 and $56 health insurance contributions, respectively, in the three years. Present insurance includes family health coverage and life insurance. Madison County highway employees are regarded as the highest paid in Illinois, including state and Cook County road staffs. They are said to feel it is important that this county maintain its past policy of all health insurance costs being borne by the employer.

POLICE INVESTIGATE BATTERY OF GCMAN

Officers went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 9:25 p.m. Saturday and talked with Wade Whitford, 26, of 2404 Dewey Ave., who reported having been injured about 1 a.m. the same day at a address in the 2900 block of West 23rd Street. Whitford had been admitted to the medical center with a fracture to his left cheekbone, contusions to his left eye and a rib fracture, reports said. Police are continuing to investigate the incident.

Discount seminar for area senior citizens

Nance St. James of St. Louis, well known for her appearances on radio and television, will present a special seminar on "The Silver Page," a publication of Southwestern Bell Publications to provide discount privileges for residents 60 years of age or older.

The informational program will begin at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 30, at the Granite City Township Hall, 2030 Delmar Ave.

This project is new for the Illinois-Missouri metro area but is apparently thriving in other parts of the country. It is expected that the program will be instituted in 110 cities by the end of 1986.

Mrs. St. James, the spokeswoman for Southwestern Bell Publications, will explain the program designed to promote discounts for senior citizens if they are 60 or older.

All Quad-City senior citizens are being invited to attend the session, where they will have the opportunity to sign an application form to secure a discount card. They will later receive a copy of the Silver Pages on a regular basis which lists merchants and business places who honor the card.

According to the announcement card holders may use this form of buying at stores and business places throughout the country if they are participating sponsors of the project.

Those who plan on attending the meeting also may make a reservation for the nutrition meal to be served at the township hall that day by calling 877-4373. Reservations must be made the day before the meeting, the spokeswoman said.

Ballot position

Record that he would run for a trustee position.

Petitioners have until Jan. 31 to withdraw from candidacies.

GRANITE CITY TOWNSHIP
In Granite City Township, no new filings occurred Monday.

In the race for township supervisor, Nelson Hagnauer will run unopposed.

The race for township assessor will be between Fred W. Painter, Darlene Laub and Earl Tucker.

CHOUTEAU TOWNSHIP
The Honest-Dependable and Qualified Party in Chouteau Township filed its slate of candidates for township offices Monday, afternoon with the clerk, Mrs. Patricia Polley.

Those listed on the party ticket for the April 2 election includes: incumbent Walter "Dick" Sparks, for supervisor; Mary Ball, clerk; Elmer W. Werner, highway commissioner; incumbent Marion "Sparky" Sparks, assessor; incumbent Michael "Mike" Johnson, collector; and for trustees, Melvin Simpson, Richard F. Demaree, Lyndall McDaniel and incumbent Thomas W. "Tom" Johnson.

Charles Bill Chisenhall who was seeking the highway commissioner office withdrew his petition Monday, however, incumbent trustee Dudley Luebber is running as an independent candidate for highway commissioner.

The United For Progress Party slate in Chouteau Township lists Morris Miles, for supervisor; David Clements, assessor; incumbent Patricia Polley, town clerk; Joseph B. Stefanoff, highway commissioner; Lee Sparks, collector; and trustees James Spann, Robert Leckrone, James E. Greer and incumbent Josephine Burger.

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP
A lottery for placement on the April 2 ballot and the filing of two objections have been reported by Nameoki Township Clerk Donald "Lee" Ridgeway.

Nameoki Township Highway Commission dispatcher Shirley Denson filed objections against the petitions filed by former Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelec and his wife, Melba. But filed to run for highway commissioner in the township.

Mehelec was ousted from the highway commissioner position last October following a ruling by Madison County Associate Judge Edward C. Ferguson on a quo warranto (civil rather than criminal) motion by the state's attorney's office.

The ouster followed Mehelec's conviction July 17 on a count of official misconduct for ordering township employees to perform work on a personal car. He was sentenced to September to two years of probation, ordered to devote 200 hours to public service work and was fined $500 plus court costs. He is free on a $10,000 recognizance bond.

A lottery conducted Saturday resulted in the placement of the Citizens Action Party at the top of the ballot. The slate that party is comprised of Trustee Helen Hawkins for supervisor, James Jeffries Sr. for assessor, Linda Hedger for township clerk, Charles Reed for highway commissioner, Billy Bridges for collector, and Jerry Adams, who is a former township trustee, Jan Langenstein, Leon Ballev and Randall "Randy" Achley for township trustee posts.

The opposition, called the Township Improvement Party, is comprised of Trustee Norman Henth, seeking a trustee position; Trustee Joseph Garcia, seeking reelection; Trustee M. Dell Whittle, seeking election to her appointed position; Assessor Carl Macios, seeking reelection; Town Clerk Donald "L. Ridgeway, seeking reelection; Highway Commissioner W. Lee Adams, seeking election to his appointed position, and Steve Leimbach, candidate for tax collector.

An independent candidate, Jerry Lilley of the Arlington area, has filed for a trustee position, and Steven Leimbach, candidate for tax collector.

The deadline for petitioners to withdraw from their candidacies is Thursday, Jan. 31.

VENICE TOWNSHIP
Two new candidates for offices in Venice Township filed petitions this week as independents.

Former Venice Township Atorney Nick D. Vasi, filed an independent ballot for supervisor and Henry Knezevich filed as an independent candidate for assessor.

However, there are objections to both candidates. An objection to Mrs. Knezevich's petition was filed Saturday by Margaret Reidelberger, incumbent candidate for assessor. The point that Mrs. Knezevich did not have enough names on her petition. The minimum number of names is 179, according to Christ Pashoff, township supervisor, who said today he has not yet counted the names.

Venice Township Attorney John T. Paps and Pashoff filed an objection to the petition filed by Vasiloff. The objection was filed on a technicality, according to Pashoff, the point that there will be a hearing on both cases at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Venice Township office, 1502 Fifth St., Madison.

Those running on the Good Government Party ticket include incumbents Christ Pashoff, supervisor; Bill Reidelberger, town clerk; Margaret Reidelberger, assessor; Eddie L. Salmond, highway commissioner; and trustees, Richard J. Salmond, Benjamin F. Honorable, John R. Piechotinski and Earl T. Mosely. C.S. "Casey" Krakowiak seeks a first term as township tax collector.

VENICE PARK DIST.
Incumbent Venice Park Board President Arnold Johnson filed for re-election to a two-year term on the Venice Board of Park Commissioners. Johnson has filed for a six-year board term.

Also filing for a position on the park board was Algie Crawford, who filed his petitions Jan. 21, the last day to do so.

GC PARK DISTRICT
The race for the two seats on the Granite City Board of Park Commissioners has turned into a four-way contest with the filing of petitions by two major candidates, before the deadline Monday afternoon.

Dora Gonzalez Darnell, 2747 Michigan Ave., and James F. Miller Jr., 2808 Cleveland Blvd., both filed Monday with Board Secretary Frank Rea. They will face incumbent Commissioners Jack Hood and Nancy Sanders in the April 2 balloting.

Hood is completing his first, six-year term on the board and Miss Sanders is completing an two-year, unexpired term she was elected to in April 1983.

A drawing was conducted last week to determine the ballot positions of Hood and Miss Sanders who filed simultaneously at 8 a.m. on Jan. 14, the first day of filing. Miss Sanders was selected on the ballot followed by Hood, Mrs. Darnell and Miller. The position of Mrs. Darnell and Miller was determined by the order of their filings. Rea said.

Candidates who want to withdraw from the race have until 5 p.m. Jan. 31 to do so, Rea said.

Boy shot in forehead when pellet gun is fired

Ricky Motes, 14, of 2403 Kirkpatrick Homes was shot in the forehead with a pellet gun at 5:30 p.m. Thursday while walking in an alley between Jerden Avenue and Prope Street.

A 4.5 millimeter projectile entered the skin above his right eye and continued for two inches toward his right temple. The sphere was removed at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The victim said he jumped behind a fence when he saw members of a group of five youths firing air weapons toward him. Another boy with him ran behind a utility pole.

Vance Reznick, 17, of 2541 E. 27th St. said he fired toward the utility post but not the fence. He was arrested for battery and was released on $52 bail.

Police confiscated an air rifle and air pistol and questioned four youths, including Reznick. Three were released without charges. A fifth is being sought for questioning.

The two groups did not know each other, and there was no provocation, statements indicated.

Ernest Volle
Ernest L. Volle, 38, of 3130 West-point, Collinsville, Ill. with cancer of the lung, died at 6:10 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 27, 1985, at the home of his fiancée, Judy Scott, 7 Roxbury Court, Granite City, by Randall Irwin, Madison County deputy coroner.

He was born in Freelandville, Ind., and lived in this area 18 years. Mr. Volle worked at Conrail 18 years as a signal maintainer.

Survivors include two brothers, Roy Volle of Carlisle, Ind., and Hilbert Volle of Bicknell, Ind.; two sisters, Gertrude Marczak and Betty Miller, both of Bicknell, Anita Cat of Edwardsville, Ind., and Judy Brown of Vandalia, Mo.

Warriors top Alton; now 5-0 in Southwestern

Jeff Gray Cans 28, Cant's Dunk Sparks Team

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

ALTON — Open the door, slide in and buckle up.

Hold on tight because the Granite City High School basketball team is in the driver's seat, and they're going to take you for a little ride through the cities and towns of Southwestern Conference member schools.

Friday night the Warriors made a pit stop in Alton and long enough to thrill a packed house as they bettered the Redbirds, 64-62. It was the Warriors' 11th win in 16 games and their fifth SWC victory without a loss. With the win, the Warriors have completed half of their SWC schedule and appear to be driving toward the home straightaway for the league championship. The loss dropped Alton to 2-3 in the league. Collinsville and Belleville East are each 2-2, while Belleville West and East St. Louis are 1-4.

"THIS BASICALLY puts us out of it," lamented Alton coach Stan McAfoos, of his team's chances of still clinching the SWC title. "Now we've got to go to their place and win to get even. We couldn't win at home so it's really asking a lot to go there and get a win."

On the other side of the court was Warrior Coach Don Deterding. Despite his team's victory and their undefeated status in the league, the Warrior coach isn't counting on anything yet.

"I wouldn't say that this secures it (the conference title), but it certainly gives us a leg up on everyone else. If we had lost this one tonight it certainly would have tightened things up a bit," Deterding said.

THE WARRIORS' road to the victory was full of pot holes, twists and high-banked turns. There were moments of Granite City greatness, just as there were for the Redbirds.

In completing their journey, the Warriors often changed drivers for maximum effect. First there was Jeff Gray, the Warriors' 6-foot-2-inch senior guard, who led all scorers with 28 points. Gray took control from the beginning — the starting line — as he dazzled the 'Birds with his outside shooting prowess.

Gray maintained a hand on the controls throughout the contest as he often made room in the drivers' seat for his teammates, particularly 6-foot-5-inch senior forward Scott Cant.

CANT, who started slow for the Warriors netting only three points by halftime, came on like gang busters in the second half. His most inspiring effort was third-quarter alley-oop dunk assisted by 5-foot-10-inch Joe Gray. Trailing by five points at that point, Cant's dunk pumped new life into the Warrior offense that hadn't been seen since early in the first quarter.

"In all my 20 years of coaching, this is the first time I've seen players had ever jammed the ball off an alley-oop pass," Deterding told a group of reporters after the game. "That (Cant's) dunk may have won the game for us."

"I GUESS" maybe Cant is the key for us to win," Deterding said as if he were thinking aloud. "He didn't do much that first half, but boy did he catch fire in the second half." Cant ended the game with 16 points.

And what did Cant think of his game?

"It (the dunk) gave me some confidence. It got my adrenalin going and apparently it was a boost to the whole team. Sometimes I need to do that. It helps me realize that I can do more than just pick up the trash buckets underneath."

With the Cant's apparent development the Warriors are a much better ball club, adding another dimension to their game, Deterding said.

"Sure, our game revolves around (Jeff Gray) Gilley, but we can't always win on his 20-foot jump shots. Cant is rapidly developing in to our second dimension."

Not only is Deterding ecstatic about Cant's play, but so is teammate Jeff Gray.

"Oh, am grateful for Scott. Having him playing the way he's been takes an awful lot of pressure off me, and the best thing it helps the whole team. Having him and Don (Stevanus) inside gives us an inside as well as an outside game."

SLIDE over Jeff and Scott. Make room in the driver's seat for Joe in the driver's seat.

"And what about my little guard?" Deterding said about Joe Gray. "Isn't he the most tenacious little guy you've ever seen? I don't know how many assists he had. And what about those steals!"

Joe Gray, all 5-feet and 10-inches of him, was the roadblock to the Warriors' goal. When he wasn't contributing with one of his nine assists on the evening, he was reeking havoc on the Redbirds' passing game. In all, he pulled down four steals all of which were cashed in for scores.

WITH CANT and the Grays sharing the front seat and chances behind the wheel and in the limelight, there was plenty of room in the back seat for 6-foot 9-inch senior center Don Stevanus and 6-foot 2-inch senior Kurt Ryle.

None less for riding in the back, the Warriors couldn't have won without these two. Stevanus pulled down a game high of 16 rebounds — eight offensive and eight defensive — while simultaneously scoring eight crucial points.

As for Ryle, Deterding calls him a sneaky, steady player.

"RHYLE" always there. He's a consistent player. He scores his four or six points and gets his job done. He's one of those players who doesn't appear to be a crucial part of the game, but when you look at the game films afterwards you realize that he was."

Specifically, Deterding said, is Ryle's ability to snare rebounds from his forward side.

In addition to Ryle's play which contributed to the Warrior victory, he had another hand in the Warrior win. He made his teammates promise they would beat Alton. You see, Friday was Ryle's birthday — his 18th.

"They asked me what I wanted for my birthday, so I told them just to win the ball game. 'Beat Alton,' I said. 'I made them keep their promise,'" Ryle said.

Indeed he did.

And what about a birthday celebration? Well, it was delayed one night — until after Saturday's 18-point, 75-57 victory over Triad in St. Jacob.

The party will have to wait until tomorrow," Ryle said. "Until after we beat Triad."

AGAINST Alton, the Warriors jumped to an early 11-0 quarter lead. At that point in the contest, it was a Jeff Gray vs. Bobby Collins shootout. Each time Jeff Gray would come back on a jumper Collins would come back with one of his own.

By the start of the second quarter, the Warriors' aggressive offensive was waning and Alton began to whittle away at the Granite City lead, until at halftime, the Redbirds took a one-point 32-31 lead.

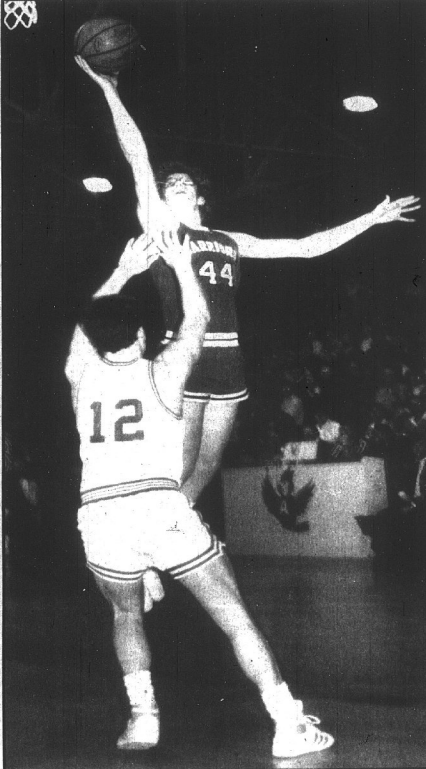

As the third quarter began Alton improved upon its lead, taking a 40-33 lead before Cant's rally-rising alley-oop dunk.

FROM THEN on the Warriors controlled.

The Warriors went from trailing by seven points, to a seven-point lead, 47-40, before McAfoos called for timeout, his second of the young second half.

By the end of the third quarter and early parts of the fourth, the Warrior lead wavered, slipping to as little as one, 48-47. But each time the Redbirds neared, the Warriors found it within themselves to pull away again.

With 5:19 remaining in the game, Cant put one in off the glass on a turn around jumper to reinstate a Warrior six-point 54-48 lead. That was all that was needed for the Redbirds to call their final timeout.

DOUBLE TROUBLE. Scott Cant, right, scores on this third-quarter alley-oop dunk on a pass from teammate Joe Gray. It was Cant's dunk which sparked the Warriors to a 14-point scoring spree and ultimately set the stage for their 64-62 Southwestern Conference basketball victory over Alton Friday night. Above, the other half of the Warrior scoring machine, Jeff Gray moves in for this lay-up against Alton's Todd Sherman. The elder Gray led all scorers with 28 points.

AS THE final moments of the game began to wane, Alton made a final run at Granite City. With about a minute and a half remaining, the Redbirds closed to within three, 61-58. Then suddenly, the Redbirds' Dale Brice made a one-point ball game, 60-61, as he picked up two of his 13 points, scoring from underneath.

The Warriors inbounded the ball which eventually found its way to Jeff Gray. With 22 seconds remaining, Brice fouled Jeff Gray as he coolly sank both free throws to give the Warriors a three-point, 63-60 lead.

Alton brought the ball down and went, unsuccessfully, to the basket. Granite City rebounded and managed to get the ball back to Jeff Gray who was fouled again.

FOULED in the back court, Gray was awarded two shots because of the type of foul. The heady Warrior responded by sinking the second of two to give the Warriors a 64-60 lead.

Alton inbounded the ball and managed to get the ball to Brice who scored with six seconds remaining, 64-62.

When the Warriors inbounded the ball Alton again found Jeff Gray the ball handler and, reluctantly, the one they had to foul.

Gray stepped up to the line and missed his first attempt. With all four Warriors back on defense, Alton rebounded the ball and passed to Collins whose last second desperation shot bounced unthreateningly off the rim.

That was our plan. We wanted to get the ball to Gilley in the final minutes of the game," Deterding explained. "If they were going to foul someone we wanted it to be Gilley. If it came down to shooting free-throws we thought it best that he be the one to step to the line."

And what did Gray think of that?

Goalkeeper Schnefke Injured Skaters pummel Parkway

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — One might say it was a case for Columbus. Since, however, this mystery involves the Granite City High school hockey team, it might not hurt to consult James Bond. After all, he's Garry Henson's all-time favorite sleuth.

"We're still today trying to figure out how it happened," said Henson, the head coach of the hockey Warriors.

What happened was Tom Schnefke, the Warriors No. 1 goaltender, suffered a deep cut to his ear Saturday afternoon as the Warriors ran their record to 18-1 with a 16-3 romp over Parkway North.

SCHNEFKE complained of being hurt during the second period after Parkway North scored its second goal. Skating to the bench, Schnefke pulled off his helmet and discovered that he was bleeding from the ear.

Although the wound wasn't life-threatening, Schnefke was taken to the hospital. Ten stitches were needed to close the wound which, Henson said, "was a good clean cut. It looked like it was done with a surgeon's scalpel."

"He doesn't know, nobody else knows how he got hurt," Henson said. "The bottom line is: Schnefke may be out of action as long as two weeks, Henson said."

THE CONTINUING line is that Collins Harlan, the Warriors backup keeper, will be called into action. Harlan, a sophomore, has collected approximately 113 minutes of playing time this season. He comes to the starting position well recommended.

"He's a good person. He's a good goaltender. We think he'll do a good job," said Henson.

Harlan will get an early baptism. It may be a difficult one, too. The Warriors will square off against CBC tonight in a contest beginning at 8:30 p.m. at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

With a 9-7-3 record and an outside chance of making the Mid-States League playoffs, the Cadets present a formidable obstacle.

IN THE Cadets, the Warriors begin the final leg of their regular season. It will be their toughest stretch. After CBC, the Warriors play John Burroughs next Sunday in an away game and finish the regular season against DeSmet next Monday night at the Wilson Park Ice Rink.

Though Schnefke is slated to be out of action for two weeks, Henson believes he might be ready in time for DeSmet.

"We're hoping. It's an outside chance," Henson said.

John Burroughs is the only team to defeat the Warriors this year while DeSmet is considered by many the best team in the Mid-States League.

THE WARRIORS already have clinched the North Division crown and a spot in the playoffs which begin Feb. 7.

Though the final three games are unimportant from a standings perspective, they are significant because, as Henson points out, "they will give us some idea how well we'll be playing going into the playoffs... all three teams are very tough."

While it's still a mystery what will prevent Schnefke from missing tonight's contest and probably the next two, there was no debate how the Warriors soared past Parkway North.

"No problem," summed up Henson of the Warriors' dominant play.

AGAIN, several players enjoyed significant roles including one who tasted the limelight for the first time.

Jeff Fedora, a sophomore, scored his first goal of the season. He celebrated by scoring two more.

The three goals was one of three hat tricks by Warrior players.

Veterans Mark Doniff and Terry Wade also tallied three goals.

Chris Carden led the way with four goals.

Trojans bow to Flyers, 73-63

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record
EAST ST. LOUIS — In recent years the East St. Louis Flyers basketball team has typically started each season with a few losses. Usually Flyers coach Coy Nunn must await the conclusion of the Illinois State High School Association's football playoffs, before he sets to work building a basketball team.

Even then, the football Flyers have to make the adjustment from the block and tackle of the gridiron to the pick and roll of the hardwood. And that takes a little more time. Lately though, the development of Nunn's team has been delayed for another reason, academics.

STARTING point guard Earnest Taylor had been academically ineligible to play for the Flyers. But in his first game back on Saturday night against the Madison Trojans, Taylor was no flunkie, as he fired in 20 points and dished out numerous assists in leading East St. Louis to a 73-63 win.

"With Earnest Taylor back in the lineup, he gives us an added dimension," said Nunn. "It was his first game back. Hopefully he'll play better and get the team playing better."

The Flyers took off to a 15-0 lead at the end of the first period, and with the exception of some turbulence late in the third and early in the fourth quarters, glided in with their 10-point victory.

IN THE early going East St. Louis was virtually unopposed on the backboards. The Flyers held Madison to one shot each trip for most of the first half, and enjoyed a 30-27 spread at the intermission.

Six-foot, six-inch sophomore James Harris scored five buckets in the second quarter. The majority of his points came from short turn-around jumpers and offensive rebound hoops. Forward Norvell Ward also was a force inside for East Side, as he dropped in six points in the opening period.

The Flyers' board strength was not a surprise to Madison coach Rodney Watson.

"THAT WAS our No. 1 concern. We talked about it before the game," Watson said. "We were faced with a challenge coming into this game, but we just didn't meet the challenge."

The Trojans were also faced with switching Flyer defenses. East St. Louis deployed both 1-3-1 and 2-3 zones that kept pressure on Madison's wings, and shut down Trojans' normally potent inside attack.

"They (the Flyers) did a good job of putting pressure on the ball," said the Trojan coach. "Give East St. Louis credit. They really took away our inside game."

"I THOUGHT we did a pretty good job of moving the ball, but we had too many turnovers, and the mental intensity wasn't there. Everybody played hard at times, but we aren't getting effort out of five people for 32 minutes," said Watson. "If you're not ready to play, they (East Side) make it a rough night for you because they have a lot of skills. They do things that other teams can't do."

The Flyers' ability to score from the paint and the perimeter kept the Trojans off balance for most of the night, but late in the third quarter Madison made a run at them.

WITH 2:30 left in the period and the Trojans down by 12, Madison guard Deloyd Williams made a steal and a bucket. Then Anthony Valentine swiped the ball and drove to the hoop. Center Reggie Banks deposited the offensive rebound, and Madison trailed by eight.

After an exchange of baskets, Banks canned a 12-foot jumper from the left baseline to bring the Trojans back to within six as the quarter expired.

Madison was down by that same six-point margin for half of the final period, until the Flyers' Taylor nailed a 20-footer to give East St. Louis an eight-point cushion and the momentum.

FOR WATSON and the Trojans it was a disappointing loss, but the Madison coach isn't one to dwell on the negative.

"We just weren't ready to play tonight. I see improvement," Watson said. "We're getting better in a lot of areas. We can't let this negativism get to us. It's a pivotal part of the season, and now it's a matter of getting ready for the (post-season) tournament."

With the return of Taylor to the lineup, Nunn is scheming for his Flyers to raise havoc in the Southwestern Conference race.

"We might not win the thing (the conference), but we're going to be a factor," Nunn smiled. "We're looking forward to the second go 'round."

JUBILANT. Their team must be winning. That was the case Friday in Alton as this group of Warrior fans expressed their approval of their team's play during the fourth quarter of a Southwestern Conference basketball game. These fans' jubilation didn't turn to disappointment either as they watched their team post a 64-62 victory over Alton.

Should museum tell story of mound builders or all Indian tribes?

By JUDY TAPLIN

Should the proposed new Cahokia Mounds museum and interpretive center reflect the unique life of the Indians who lived there?

Or should it be a center encompassing all the Indian cultures of this continent?

THE PROPOSED $6 million museum could be under the construction as early as the spring of 1986, according to Robert Comer, superintendent of historic sites for the Illinois Department of Conservation. But already the museum has become the center of a controversy.

In mid-January, the Maryville village board approved a resolution supporting a larger, continental museum. Other municipalities and civic organizations have done the same.

The resolutions they approved came from Robert Goins, executive director of Belleville Economic Progress Inc., that city's former Chamber of Commerce.

Goins says a truly continental museum, housing thousands of original artifacts from various Indian cultures, would help make Southern Illinois a national tourist spot and bring in millions of dollars annually to area municipalities.

BELLEVILLE ECONOMIC Progress is proposing that $10-$12 million in federal funds be sought to expand the present plans into a continental museum.

Goins has sent out 138 copies of the proposed resolution. He is asking that the signed resolutions be returned by Feb. 1 so that all can be sent to Springfield and Washington by Feb. 11.

He says a continental museum would, among other things, greatly increase the prospects for redevelopment of the East St. Louis area.

About the same time Goins was talking, Bill Iseninger, site interpreter at Cahokia Mounds, was composing a letter to the media.

THE LETTER says it is not the intent of the Illinois Department of Conservation to feature all Indian cultures in the museum.

"Cahokia is unique because it is Cahokia — that is why it's on the World Heritage List," Iseninger told a reporter. "People come to hear and see about Cahokia Mounds."

The state has not budgeted enough for the larger scale purpose being proposed by Goins and others, he noted. And that larger scope and scale is not wanted for Cahokia, he added.

The resolution sent by Goins is connected with the desires of a Belleville resident, Milton Harrington, to donate his collection of artifacts to the museum.

HARRINGTON PLANS to donate 2,000 items, including 1,000 relics from the Mayan, Aztec and Incan pre-Columbian civilizations.

Harrington said only about 50 of his artifacts would be used if the museum concentrates solely on the Indians of Cahokia Mounds.

The Goins resolution notes that private individuals are willing to donate 5,000 artifacts worth $1 million.

Goins said that those advocating a continental museum do not want to delay the state's construction of the museum at Cahokia.

HE SAID IT MIGHT be possible that the state could go ahead and build the museum, with federal money later financing an addition or a separate building.

Goins said he has written to Margaret Brown, site superintendent at Cahokia, in an attempt to clear up misunderstandings about the proposed continental museum.

"We're not trying to ruffle any feathers," he said.

Iseninger said it would be difficult to make the museum joint state-federal operation.

"In the past, the National Park Service hasn't shown any interest in taking over the site — and it has been approached," he said.

NAMED TO THE WORLD Heritage List several years ago, Cahokia Mounds is the only U.S. site of 10 on the list which is state, rather than federally, owned.

Most importantly, according to Iseninger, the proposal being made would not fit in with the master development plan for Cahokia Mounds.

Margaret Brown said, "Rather than a showcase for local collectors, the museum is intended to reflect the international significance of Cahokia Mounds."

Archaeological excavations at the site of the new museum — at the south end of Ramey Street — are to begin this spring. Actual construction would depend on when these excavations are completed, according to Iseninger.

The state is to release $500,000 in planning money for the museum before June 30, the end of the state's fiscal year.

THE $5.5 MILLION for construction is scheduled for release in the fiscal year beginning this July 1.

Comer says he expects the planning funds to be released in the next three weeks.

Booker Associates of Fairview Heights has been chosen as the primary architectural consultant; Architectural Associates of Collinsville and Vollmer Associates, soon to be located in Collinsville, will also be involved.

Comer says the position of the IDOC is that the story of Cahokia Mounds is one that needs to be told without diluting it with other Indian civilizations.

2 charged in Allen murder

First-degree murder charges have been filed against two persons in the fatal shooting Jan. 6 of Thomas Scott Allen, 16, Doniphan, Mo., a former Granite Cityan.

His body was recovered Jan. 14 from the Eleven Point River near Doniphan. The high school junior was an honor student.

Those in custody are Stanley DeWaine Lingar, 21, and David Lee Smith, 18, both unemployed laborers residing at Lingo Lake in Ripley County, Mo.

Lingar's brother, Eddie Lingar, 35, Doniphan, has been charged with obstructing justice by providing gasoline to the suspects after the slaying, aiding their attempt to dispose of the body and evidence.

After Allen's vehicle ran out of gasoline on old Highway 160 east of Doniphan about 1:30 a.m. Jan. 6, it is believed he was offered a ride in a car occupied by the two murder suspects. They agreed to help him obtain gasoline, and no motive for the killing is known.

The metal part of a .22-caliber rifle believed to have been used in the crime has been recovered from Kentucky, where the suspects went before returning to Missouri Jan. 10.

It is believed the victim was taken to a wooded area, where Stanley Lingar shot him in the back. The body initially was placed in an auto trunk and later was thrown off a Highway 142 bridge.

A blood-stained carpet from the trunk of the suspects' car was burned near their home.

Madison woman robbed of purse

A Madison woman was robbed of her handbag last week after a man armed with a pistol threatened her. The incident occurred at 11:45 a.m. in the alley at 408 Madison Ave.

Katie Mikulicz of 708 Iowa St. told police that she was walking in the alley when a young man motioned for her to walk over towards him. When she did, he threatened to kill her if she did not give him her handbag. The purse contained $10 in cash.

The suspect then fled east down the alley. He has been described as a white male in his teens, about 5'7" tall, wearing a tan coat, tan ski mask and dark pants.

Cottey College is chapter program

The activities and programs at Cottey College in Nevada, Mo., was the subject of a program presented by Martha Delevski at the meeting, Tuesday night, of Chapter KU, P.E.O. Sisterhood.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Bonnie Loftus, 3220 Willow Ave., for the meeting conducted by Ruth Ann Bartels.

Mrs. Bartels announced Mary McCarty is in the process of finalizing arrangements for the annual BIL Party scheduled for the spring. She also appointed Melva Naffziger and Mrs. Loftus to act as chairman and vice chairman for the committee of guards, pages and tellers of the 1986 P.E.O. Convention.

The Feb. 12 meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Jo Ann Burckley, and will feature a silent auction, the president noted.

Others present were Bessie Coolidge, Hulda Davis, Rebecca Jones, Jean Maxwell, Rita McConnell, Mrs. Naffziger, Elizabeth Rea, Beth Spengler and Connie King.

Opti-Mrs. honor Mrs. Irby Todd

Mrs. Irby Todd was accorded birthday honors at the monthly meeting of the Noon Day Opti-Mrs. Club hosted at Charlie's Restaurant.

Hostesses for the day were Mesdames Wallace Wyman, Earl Buehner and Wilbert Engelle. After the invocation by Mrs. Engelle, lunch was served to 15 members.

President Mrs. Victor Anderson opened the meeting and led the group repeating the Opti-Mrs. Creed. Committee reports were submitted. It was noted that Mrs. Ernie Viehl suffered an apparent heart attack. Mrs. Ted Auferheide is home from the hospital and the husband of a former member, Mrs. Raymond Henley, died recently.

Mrs. David Parrish read a card and note received from Miss Connie Siebert, a student nurse who is sponsored by the club. An invitation was also extended to the club by the Optimist Club to attend their Valentine party.

Attendance prizes were awarded to Mesdames David John, Irby Todd, Alfred Pape, David Parrish and Victor Anderson. Others present were, Mesdames Elmer Branding, Dave Giese, Douglas Little, Lawrence McCauley, Larry Melvin, Carl Ranft and Carl Ronch.

Mrs. Norma Ridlen presents lesson

Mrs. Norma Ridlen addressed the members of Every Member Busy Circle of Nameoki United Methodist Church presenting a lesson taken from the book, "You Can Become the Person You Want To Be," by Robert H. Schuller.

Members met in the home of Mrs. Virginia Carroll with Mrs. Alma Cowan presiding over the session. Helene Bischoff gave the opening prayer followed by reports of the secretary and treasurer.

Other announcements included plans for the mother-daughter banquet set for May 13 with the entertainment to be provided by Ruthie's Ragtime Gals.

The collection of the Least Coin was taken and Mrs. Bischoff then read "Pathways to Peace" from the Least Coin booklet entitled, "Circle of Prayer."

Mrs. Cowan announced the Feb. 26 meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Ridlen and Mrs. Luan Briner will present the lesson. Dorothy Luckert offered the closing prayer.

Refreshments were served to those named by the hostess.

Randant-Francis

Miss Anne Francis and Daniel J. Randant exchanged wedding vows on Nov. 23 at St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Collinsville.

The Rev. Larry Anschultz officiated at the 5:30 ceremony. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Ungerot, organist, and Rhonda Hilker, soloist.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Jeanne Francis, 3205 Maryville Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Francis of Edwardsville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Randant of Collinsville.

A reception for guest was hosted at Engelbert Hall in Madison. After a wedding trip to Jamaica the newlywed couple now lives in Collinsville.

Sue Francis, a sister of the bride, served as honor attendant with bridesmaids, Mary Beth Drennan, Cathy Macios, and Julie and Patty Randant, both sisters of the groom.

The groom chose Mike Massa as best man, David and Stephen Randant, brothers of the groom, Larry Eartheil, John Kurant, Rob Ronney and Mike Buettner, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Patty Griffith presided over the guest book.

The bride is employed as a receptionist at Tri-City Eye Center, in Granite City. The groom works as a lawn specialist at Chemlawn in Collinsville and graduated from Collinsville High School in 1979.

Audubon Society studies home wildlife yards

Brent Schendewolf of Alton, was the guest speaker at the January meeting of Southwest Illinois Audubon Society held at the First Federal Savings and Loan in Edwardsville.

He informed the group of his national wildlife backyard and noted he received a Certificate of Merit from the National Wildlife Association for the project.

After a discussion, the members expressed an interest in turning their property into a beautification project similar to the speakers.

An outing for an eagle census set for Feb. 9 was discussed. Those interested in attending are to dress warmly, bring a brown bag lunch and meet at the levee south of the Jefferson Barracks bridge approach at 9 a.m. The group will end its tour at Port Charles where they will eat lunch. Anyone interested in attending is advised to call 931-1352.

January meeting of Gabriel Shrine 78

The January meeting of Gabriel Shrine 78, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, was conducted in the Masonic Temple by Dorothy Watkins, worthy high priestess, and John R. Williams, associate warden of shepherds.

Supreme officers as well as past chapter officers were escorted and introduced and included Dorothy Edwards of Gabriel Shrine, Rose Van Gels, Albert Van Gels of Pride of the West, Bernard Standerfer and Patricia Standerfer of Gaspar, and Alice and Oco Wood of Gabriel Shrine.

Those reported ill were John DeHart, Ruth Fisher, Jerry and Martha Pragacz, Lena Wood, Joann Spohr, Florence Spohr, and Howard Bolton.

Pro-tem officers of the evening were, Bernard Standerfer, John Williams, Dorothy Edwards, Helen Schwendemann, Patricia Standerfer, Edith Smith, Rose Van Gels, Albert Van Gels, Julian Smith and Edith Carpenter.

After the meeting members and guests retired to the dining room for refreshments. Decorations were both large and small snowmen and sleds.

Those who assisted Mrs. Watkins with the decorations and serving were Helen Schwendemann, Edith Smith, John Williams, Karen Bronsman, Dorothy Edwards and Della Aulabaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Rick Reeves

Reeves-Sullivan

The wedding of Miss Rhonda Leigh Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, 2651 Nameoki Drive, and Rick Reeves, son of Mrs. Alpha Reeves, Vienna, Mo., was solemnized on Dec. 1 at the Bethesda Baptist Church in Granite City.

Officiating at the 6 o'clock evening service was the Rev. Luther Abbott. Margaret Harris presided at the organ and played a program of nuptial selections.

Immediately following the service guests were received at a reception in the church fellowship hall.

Attending the bride was Alice

Holtmeyer as honor attendant and bridesmaids included, Cathy Douglas, a sister of the bride, and Lou Fulkerson.

Natasha Douglas, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl and Ricky Sullivan, was the ring bearer.

The groom chose his brothers, Tom Reeves as best man, Roy and Danny Reeves were groomsmen, Danny Reeves also served as the candlelighter.

The bride is a 1980 graduate of Granite City High School South and the groom is self employed. They are now residing in Belle, Mo.

Madison Jr. Service reviews fund raisers

Mrs. Diane Hudzik, president of Madison Junior Service Club, presided at the first meeting of the 1985 club year and led discussions on fund raising projects sponsored during the previous year.

Members met in the Madison Recreation Center for the session that opened with reports by club officers. The fund raising sale of a Cabbage Patch doll provided $227 that was designated for the preparation of food baskets delivered to nine needy families during the holiday season.

Another project of special interest in the community was the annual Evening With Santa that followed the theme of "Circus." For this money making event there were 292 tickets sold, that generated funds for the club's yearly charitable programs.

Georgia Stawar submitted a report on the pecan sales noting the members sold a total of 1,560 pounds of pecans during the 1984 year.

In conjunction with new business for the organization, the members agreed to donate monies to the Easter Seals campaign and the Meals on Wheels program.

Jean Kostencki and Kathy Buchek, co-chairmen of a event to benefit the March of Dimes, announced the "Taste Tease" will be on Feb. 12 in the Madison Recreation Center with serving to begin at 6:20 p.m.

Several applications for membership were read during the meeting.

During the social hour that followed the business discussion refreshments were served by Jackie Snell and Donna Woodard and several games were played with prizes awarded to the winners.

Mr. and Mrs. Valencia name girl Andrea Marie

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph (Debbie) Valencia, 2535 E. 27th St., are announcing the birth of a daughter on Jan. 16 at Memorial Hospital in Belleville.

The infant has been named Andrea Marie and she weighed 8 pounds, 14 ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Otilio Valencia and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zaring, all of Granite City.

DO YOU EXPERIENCE HAIR LOSS?

Hair loss can be hereditary. Hair loss can also be a result of tension. It is important to remember that the mind plays a very important part with the body.

Hair loss that is a result of tension is treated in my salon by therapeutic scalp massaging. I am finding that scalp massaging in some clients is resulting in a relaxation of the scalp which results in natural oil flow which helps the once assumed dead hair follicles to become healthier. The hair then becomes healthier looking.

Navy Mothers to buy flag pole

Members of Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter 850, agreed to purchase a flag pole and stand for the state club at its January social meeting held in the VFW Hall, Thursday night.

Commander Clara Layton presided at the session and introduced to the club and gave the oath of membership to a new member, Mary Scarsdale.

Also introduced were guests for the evening were Tim Passig and Wesley Standtli, both serving with the U.S. Navy.

The mystery package for the night went to Marian Lipscomb and special awards were presented to Hazel Jones and Mary Koskog, the latter is the first commander of the club.

After the business segment, Mrs. Lipscomb served a dessert luncheon followed by several games. Prize winners included Betty Teller, Hazel Jones and Elizabeth Ramsey.

The next meeting on Feb. 14 will be business and will convene at the VFW, the commander noted.

DAV Auxiliary elects officers

Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary, Unit 53, elected officers to serve for the 1985 year at a meeting conducted at the DAV Hall, last week.

The session was opened by Senior Vice Commander Lorraine Groves. Those to serve for the ensuing year include, Mary Ann Delre, commander; Lorraine Groves, senior vice commander; Alta Carpenter, junior vice commander; Betha Kichler, chaplain; Wilma Dortch, treasurer; and Ruth Nunes, adjutant.

The commander urged members to write to the president, senators and Melvin Price on the issue, "Administration Assault on VA Benefits and Services."

During the business segment the members finalized plans to visit a patient in a VA hospital and to continue making lap robes as the current project.

Golden Agers plan potluck

The Golden Agers Senior Club held its first business session of the new year last week at the Anchorage Homes recreation hall. Thirteen members attended, celebrated a birthday and enjoyed cake and coffee.

Due to Lincoln's Birthday falling on the next meeting date, the seniors elected to hold their monthly potluck luncheon Wednesday, Feb. 13, beginning at noon in the Anchorage Hall.

A Valentine's dance will take place from 6 to 10:30 p.m. Feb. 13, at the Granite City Township Center, with transportation to be made available for persons calling 877-8594. It was announced.

Members were advised that a benefit dance, featuring six bands, also is scheduled at the township building Saturday, Feb. 2, from 6:30 p.m. until 10:30 p.m.

The dance is open to all area residents and tickets cost $4 per person. Children, 12 years and under, will be admitted without charge.

The Granite City Senior Council will host a games night from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. Tuesday at the township center. It was reported.

After the meeting, games were played and prizes were awarded to Evelyn Smith, Vi Lindner, Art Lindner, Caroline Lux, Juanita Crawley, Carrie Hart and Martin Schulte.

NARFE Chapter discusses budget cuts

The regular meeting of NARFE was held at Charlie's Restaurant, with 55 in attendance including a guest, Elida Fortner. The group is the National Association of Retired Federal Employees.

Chapter President Gerald Walters, called the meeting to order and all repeated the Pledge of Allegiance.

A moment of silence was observed in memory of two recently deceased members, Mary Breidenbach and Arthur "Pete" Metcalf.

The minutes were read by Ruth Stoyanoff and the treasurer's report was given by Helen Martin.

First Vice President Dale Fortner presented a report on legislative happenings of interest to federal retirees, particularly those "testing of the waters" activities now under way in the nation's capital which will have a direct bearing or have some influence on President Reagan's budget recommendations to be sent to Congress in early February 1985.

Fortner discussed the president's tentative endorsement of suggested budget cuts which include a one-year "freeze" on the cost-of-living adjustment of federal annuities. He also reviewed the proposals made by the U.S. Office of Personnel Management in mid-November press release to alter retirement benefits adversely. Those proposals have been offered in past fiscal years and were not then accepted; OPM will again urge the White House to include the same ones in the president's budget recommendations to Congress, he said.

In order that they not jeopardize their benefits, Service Officer Georgina McMillan urged that all Civil Service survivor annuitants under age 60 who are contemplating remarriage read carefully the article which appears in the January issue of Retirement Life. The statutory language of the new law which reduced the remarriage age from 60 to 55 is unclear and may require technical revision of the law by the 99th Congress.

At the December meeting the traditional "passing of the bat" resulted in a donation of $65 that was forwarded to the Salvation Army for its Tree of Lights campaign.

The next meeting will be held at Charlie's on Feb. 11 at 11:30 a.m.

You can BANK on it!

E. A. KARANDJEFF

Chairman
Central Bank of Granite City

Q: It is possible to put someone else's name on a bank certificate, along with mine so if I should pass away before the certificate matures, the other person will receive the money, even without a will?

A: First, we would encourage you to have a will drawn up. The process is quick, inexpensive, and will save time and avoid possible problems. To answer your question, however, you can instruct your bank to have a certificate read "in trust of" the other person you wish named. This procedure creates what is known as a Totten trust. Totten trusts stand outside any will, and will avoid probate. The money represented by the certificate remains in your control as long as you are alive and, since it does, you are liable for any interest earned during your lifetime. The money will revert to the other person named upon your death, whether you have a will or not. Any inheritance or estate taxes are paid by your estate.

AARP Chapter to disband Feb. 27

Members of the American Association of Retired Persons, Chapter 3577, met at Anchorage Recreation Hall, Wednesday at 11 a.m., and agreed to relinquish its charter at the Feb. 27 meeting, according to Virgil Worley, president.

The chapter was organized for those people who stated a desire to meet during the day instead of the night sessions. Due to the lack of attendance and inability to fill committees and offices the chapter is forced to cancel its charter, Worley explained.

All monies on hand in the amount of $188 were donated to the Meals on Wheels project at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The meeting was opened with all repeating the Lord's Prayer and Pledge of Allegiance.

Piasa Health Care to provide support group

Piasa Health Care, 1315 Vandavia, Collinsville, is offering a parent support-group training program for parents whose children have become chemically dependent. The eight-week course is geared to provide information to promote recovery and methods to cope with the frustration of the situation.

The group will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays, beginning Feb. 20 and continuing through April 10. Cost is $15 per person or $20 per couple. Those wishing to participate should contact Piasa Health Care by Friday, Feb. 8, at 345-5200.

PTA Unit Hears Frank Hollis

Frank Hollis, a certified public accountant, spoke at the January meeting of Prather PTA on the subject of "Most Frequently Omitted Tax Deduction Items." After his talk parents were invited to ask questions relating to the topic.

During the business meeting notes of appreciation were read by Diana Pullian including, one from Nancy Marti thanking the unit for the purchase of curtains for the school of office, a computer and thermometer. Also from Helen Miller for the $25 to buy learning games and a carpet for the kindergarten classroom.

A letter was received from Jean Miller informing the group that March is designated Drug and Alcohol Awareness month.

Susie Hollie was named chairman of the annual blood drive and anyone wishing to volunteer their time to assist with the project is advised to call her or Laura Lockwood.

The president announced the newsletter will be available every two weeks, and that Nameoki School won the Cultural Art contest. Members agreed to buy a setting Ready to Read Resource kit. As a result of collecting Maxwell House coffee lids the PTA received a 36-cup coffee pot, it was noted.

Chairmen are needed to plan and assist with the school carnival scheduled for May 3. Mrs. Joy Bohenski reported. If parents want the children to have the carnival they are advised to call her at 877-2578 to volunteer, she added.

Feb. 5 is the regular school board meeting and the PTA will convene again on Feb. 11, the president noted.

Ainad Oriental Band installs

Curtis Bosworth of Madison, has been elected and installed as president and director of the Oriental Band of Ainad Temple in East St. Louis.

Bosworth is employed by Granite City Steel and is a millwright in the Hot Strip Department. He is married to the former Emma Whitescott and they are the parents of one son, Timothy, age six.

The Oriental Band, one of many units of the Shrine Temple, recently held their annual Christmas party and installation of officers at the Polish Hall in Madison. After a social hour, followed by dinner, a brief program was conducted by the outgoing president, Darold Dickerson of Granite City.

Irvin C. Slate Jr. of Oriental Guide of Ainad Temple Officers Divan, and Orville E. Hommert, First Ceremonial Master of the Divan and honorary member of the Oriental Band, installed the 1985 officers elected and appointed by the band.

Officers elected to lead the band in the new year are as follows: president, Curtis Bosworth; vice president, Bob Robinson, Cahokia; treasurer, Richard Staggs, Granite City; secretary, Ben Livingston, Granite City; band manager, Terry Groth, Freeburg; and band director, Curtis Bosworth.

Those appointed for the new year are, Chaplain, Irvin C. Slate Sr., Granite City; ambassadors, Courtland Bosworth, Madison, John Simpson, St. Louis; assistant director, Richard Staggs; and the advisory board of Darold Dickerson, Art Smith, Fairview Heights; Willis Price, Hartford.

Ben Livingston was named "Shrine of the Year" by the nominating committee of the band. Terry Groth was named the "Oriental Bandman of the Year" by the directing staff; and Courtland Bosworth was given special recognition for being the only member to have 100 percent attendance to all of the events this past year.

Annually, the band, whose roster contains many from the Quad-City area, participates in the Great Lakes Oriental Band Jamboree. This year's jamboree will be hosted by Hadi Temple of Evansville, Ind. Units and Shrine Clubs of Ainad Temple support 18 Crippled Childrens Hospitals and three Burns Centers throughout North America.

The Oriental Band members are noted for their colorful Arabic attire and they participate in many Shrine parades, homecoming parades in Southern Illinois, and other appearances. The band also made a surprise appearance at the wedding reception of Craig and Sherri Niebrugge of Freeburg, one of the members of the band.

Celebration to honor Democrat Christ Costoff

A celebration honoring Christ Costoff, a Madison alderman, for his 50 years as an active Democrat has been slated for 6 to 10 p.m. Monday, Feb. 4, at Charlie's Restaurant, 3120 Nameoki Road.

Mae Warfield, Democratic county chairman, says Costoff has been a precinct committeeman for 40 years, a Madison alderman for 16 years and has served two terms as Madison County Democratic chairman.

Plans call for a buffet dinner, cocktails and dancing for a cost of $75 per couple.

Cable TV rate hike discussed by Pontoon Beach Village Board

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

The Pontoon Beach Village Board of Trustees heard comments last week from a former cable television technician regarding a proposed rate increase for South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., which serves Pontoon Beach subscribers.

Steve Kraus, Communications Workers of America Local 6378 president and a former cable television technician for Warner-Amex Cable Communications of St. Louis, Inc., told board members that he has had "a great deal of experience in the cable industry, and I think you're being led to believe some things that aren't exactly true."

KRAUS OBJECTED to a comment from South-Western Cable TV General Manager Lon Carruth that part of the reason for the $1 proposed increase in rates is because of increased wages for union employees. Kraus suggested that the board members compare the number of employees receiving a wage increase to the number of subscribers paying an additional $1 for cable TV. "I'm sure the staff isn't as large as the subscriber base," he noted. "I think it's horrendous to blame labor for the price increase when they're not even bringing them close to a break-even point. They need about a 60 percent increase. They do need the money. What they need it for, I don't know."

Trustee Donald C. Rea asked Kraus if he could comment on the "lack of service and the inefficiencies of the cable."

Kraus responded, "From what I've seen," cable companies make promises that can't be kept when requesting franchises from government entities. "Carruth or someone in his capacity made comments that they'd come down and fix it. You're on a microwave from Maryville to Granite City, and from there, it's fed out here. You can't fix it. Rainfall is going to get you every time."

KRAUS EXPLAINED that rainfall interferes with microwaves and that one of the ways to avoid the interference is to increase the power of the transmitter, "which would involve a great deal of expense on South-Western's part. You're on the hub. (The interference) is not really fixable."

"If he's asking a 12 1/2 percent increase in rates," Kraus continued, "I think he should fix up the system better."

Another problem with the system, Kraus contended, is fixable. He said diagonal signals on the screen mean one channel is trying to "pass another channel up. Any technician can fix those, but the experience I've had as a customer is that it seems to take forever to get it fixed."

TRUSTEE ROBERT Abel asked Kraus if the subscription cost might be based on the number of subscribers.

"That's a good excuse," Kraus argued. "It's the suggestion that the trustees compare South-Western's subscription rates with those of other area cable companies. I think they're going to charge whatever the market can absorb."

Village Treasurer Ray Gaudette said his analysis of a confidential profit-and-loss statement from South-Western Cable shows that the company is, in fact, losing money. According to that report, a 12 1/2 percent increase won't even bring them close to a break-even point. They need about a 60 percent increase. They do need the money. What they need it for, I don't know."

GAUDETTE ALSO admitted under questioning that administrative costs as listed in the profit-and-loss statement were "substantial. The subscriber base can't support the system," he concluded.

Rea noted that he has received several calls about the proposed rate increase. "I've heard horror stories about poor reception and poor service and they can't get a response. Personally, the only thing I've had is bad reception," he said, calling cable television in general "stupid."

Board President Glen Wilson said the village board would take no action on the rate increase until the next meeting, Feb. 12, when Carruth will again discuss the requested rate increase with the board.

TRUSTEE LOREN Madison noted that municipalities will lose their power to reject or approve rate increases for cable television franchisees after Dec. 29, 1986, due to the passage of the Cable Communications Act of 1984. "Why not just vote it down now and let it go?" he asked.

Gaudette reported that the village currently receives about $5,000 per year from cable television franchise revenues. The village receives 3 percent of the revenues from cable TV subscribers in the village.

South-Western also plans to raise its premium channel rates 75 cents. The village has no control over the rates for the premium channels.

THE CABLE Telecommunications Act of 1984 allows the company to raise basic rates 5 percent without village board approval, effective last Dec. 29, but Carruth maintains that the automatic increase is not enough to cover the costs the cable company has had to absorb.

The higher rate is needed, he says, because of increasing costs for operation, labor, maintenance and future construction.

The cable television company last received an increase in February 1982. The increase in rates, Carruth says, would bring cable television rates in Pontoon Beach in line with those that South-Western customers in Highland, Caseyville and Maryville are paying.

THE RATE increase also was sought in Granite City but was rejected last week by the city council.

Venice supports proposal for Cahokia Mounds Museum

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Support for the construction of a first-class, large museum housing thousands of original artifacts at a proposed Cahokia Mounds site was voiced last week by the Venice City Council, which adopted a resolution to this effect.

The action came in response to a request from Robert M. Goins, executive director of Belleville Economic Progress, Inc. The group is attempting to locate the area a national tourist spot, promote economic development and bring new jobs and millions of dollars to Southern Illinois, it was noted.

VENICE MAYOR Tyrone Echols said the proposed site at Cahokia

Mounds has been named as one of 10 World Heritage Sites within the United States and the only site in the state of Illinois on that list, selected by the Community of Nations, an arm of the United Nations.

Private individuals are willing to donate approximately $1 million in original artifacts to be used in the proposed Continental Museum, designed for displaying the original heritage of the Indian Culture, the American Indian and authentic artifacts.

Governor James Thompson and the state legislature already have allocated $6 million for the project. However, the type of structure has not been yet decided, Goins stated, adding "It is imperative the resolution reach the state capitol as soon as possible."

In other business, it was reported that vehicle traffic over the McKinley Bridge again increased in December, according to Bridge Manager Tom.

A total of 422,653 vehicles used the city-owned toll bridge last month, averaging 13,400 vehicles per day and an increased daily average of 1,544 over December 1983.

Police Chief Francis Smith reported a total of 82 arrests per day and an increased daily average of 1,544 over December 1983. There were 110 arrests (86 men and 24 women) arrested during the month on a total of 127 charges and five juveniles arrested on six charges, he said.

Venice officials question increased MESD sewer bills

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Venice Second Ward Alderman Hank Svezla last week questioned the substantial increase in sewer fees now being billed to Venice residents.

Prior to Nov. 1, Venice residents were paying a minimum sewage treatment bill of $1.95 per month, or $5.35 every three months. New bills mailed this month totaled a minimum payment of $13.85 for two months, or $6.82 per month.

MAYOR ECHOLS reminded the council of Venice's attempts to retain use of the Landsdowne Sewage Treatment Plant for sewage services and resist being tied into a regional system that will be serviced by the Granite City sewage treatment system.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has cited the Landsdowne Treatment Plant in the past for improper operation and maintenance. The plant provides for primary treatment of effluent.

At the time of the citation, the state EPA told the Metro-East Sanitary District that it could either build a new plant with primary and secondary sewage treatment at a cost of $11.2 million or join the regional system, at a cost of $5.5 million.

LAST AUGUST, the MESD board approved a 350 percent rate hike for more than 6,800 customers served by the Landsdowne plant, who reside in Venice, Madison, Brooklyn, National City, East St. Louis and neighboring communities.

MESD Executive Director Walter "Shang" Greathouse recently said that the rate increase will enable MESD to raise the $1.5 million needed to tie into the regional treatment system in two years.

Mayor Echols said at Tuesday night's city council meeting that the additional $4 million cost of the project will come from a state grant.

"FUNDS WERE not available for each community to build its own sewage treatment plant and it appeared it would cost more to upgrade the Landsdowne plant."

"The state's plan is requiring at all times the concept of going to Granite City was the best option," the mayor explained.

No action was taken by the council.

IN OTHER business, the council was told that South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., which is installing cable television in Venice, is currently offering free installation to residents already adjacent to the lines.

Third Ward Alderman John Ervin requested official verification of the time period that free installation will be available to residents who are not on the c.cable service route.

The alderman also reported an engineer will inspect the Venice Senior Citizens' Community Center this week. A water line broke during the subzero temperatures last weekend, it was learned.

Local residents qualify as reps at John Hancock

Janet Mills and Rick W. Dickerson, both of Granite City, have qualified as registered representatives of John Hancock Distributors, Inc., broker-dealer for John Hancock mutual funds.

John Hancock Distributors, a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD), is a subsidiary of John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Miss Mills is a representative with the insurance company's General Agency in Clayton and Dickerson represents the company's District Office in Belleville. To meet federal and state requirements for selling securities, they have passed the NASD qualifying examination and complied with all Illinois regulations.

Miss Mills resides at 1415 Niedringhaus Ave. Dickerson, his wife, Lisa, and their children live at 21 Del Rio.

UW decreases allocations despite successful campaign

Faced with an end to surpluses from previous years, the Tri-Cities Area United Way had to decrease allocations to its member agencies by about $80,000 this year, resulting in cuts in the support for 1985 for several agencies, despite a successful UW campaign this fall.

For the past three years, Tri-Cities Area United Way has continued to fund its agencies and operation at levels much in excess of its income. In this year, 1985, more than $120,000 was spent in excess of its revenues. This deficit spending has been made possible by the reduction in reserves accumulated in years prior to 1982," Jim Eisenbeis, United Way president, explained.

"OUR ABILITY to continue to reduce reserves has been exhausted as we will end 1984 with a fund balance within our organization of approximately $125,000, or about the equivalent of two months' spending," Eisenbeis explained.

Therefore, the Executive Committee, with the support of the full board of directors, made a policy decision to cease deficit spending and allocate at levels equal to revenues in 1983, Eisenbeis said.

The fall campaign raised $640,000, or approximately 102 percent of the goal, but not enough, after administration of the United Way, to fund agencies at last year's levels, he noted.

IT BECAME THE job of the 22-member Budget and Allocations Committee to assess the importance of each agency and its services and determine whether cuts should be made to reduce the annual allocations from a total of $610,083 in 1984 to $530,000 in 1985.

Teams from the Budget and Allocations Committee were assigned various agencies to study and those agencies were visited at least once and involved in at least one meeting at the United Way office with representatives of the agencies.

Only after those meetings and studying the budgets did those teams prepare written reports on each agency for review by the Budget and Allocations Committee. That committee then weighed all of the reports before deciding how best to allocate the $530,000 available.

FACTORS CONSIDERED in deciding the best funding level for each agency included each one's impact on the community, any duplication of services, management costs, use of volunteers, accessibility, the effectiveness of each board of directors, revenues paid to affiliates, the cost/benefit ratio of services to the community, the value of each agency in relation to the needs of the community, the number of persons served and the development of other resources to help fund the agency.

The Budget and Allocation Committee determined that agencies offering emergency life-sustaining services would have top priority, followed by rehabilitation services, enrichment, prevention-education services and, finally, recreational and social services were assigned the lowest priority.

THE RESULT was increased allocations for five agencies and reductions for most of the other 12 agencies. Hardest hit were the Girl Scouts, whose allocation was trimmed from $35,630 last year to $19,597 in 1985, Red Cross, trimmed from $67,303 to $47,112 in 1985, the YMCA, whose allocation is down from $78,649 last year to $39,162 in 1985, and Family Counseling, which received $13,550 last year and will not receive direct aid from the United Way this year.

Other agencies' reduced 1985 allocations (with the 1984 total in parentheses) were: Visiting Nurse Association, $18,000 ($22,500); the Salvation Army, $36,000 ($39,420); Alcohol Rehabilitation (ARCH House), $20,107 ($23,750); Protestant Welfare Association; $7,862 ($17,150); the Arthritis Foundation, $1,000 ($3,760); and the Association for the Retarded, $4,650 ($13,132).

Increases were granted to: Coordinated Youth Services, $81,136 ($77,272); the Urban League, $27,135 ($25,870); Catholic Charities, $74,421 ($70,877); Children's Home & Aid Society, $24,938 ($23,750); and Alpha Center for Women, Inc., $10,100 ($6,100).

THE BOY SCOUTS' allocation remained the same, at $63,650 each year. A section for new initiatives was added in 1985 and $10,000 was allocated for these programs.

In addition, the United Way Board voted to continue direct financial aid to the Salvation Army ($8,500 this year, up from $6,000 in 1984), Protestant Welfare Association ($7,000 this year, down from $10,500 last year), and United Way Community Services ($5,500 this year, the same as last year).

It was decided to donate an additional $3,000 to the Red Cross for the one-to-four family burnout fund, for families who lose everything in fires. The $3,000 donation is down from $5,000 for that fund in 1984.

BILL ATKINS and Joni Karandjeff, co-chairmen of the Budget and Allocations Committee, noted, "As a committee, we were charged with a difficult responsibility to allocate significantly less money to the agencies who do so much for the people of the Tri-Cities Area. The progress made toward beginning a more accountable and rational system for allocations is a base upon which next year's committee can build."

Jane Quorton, executive director of the United Way, agrees that this year's allocation process was a difficult one, but she said that many of the objections encountered in the past were overcome by the wider scope and hard work by members of the Budget and Allocations Committee.

"There are still some bugs to be worked out, but I think we are on the right track. There was a great deal of citizen involvement in this process and I know that everyone on the allocations committee worked hard evaluating the agencies, their financial situation and their value to the community before deciding how best to allocate the funds available.

"OF COURSE, there was not total agreement on each and every agency's allocation, but I doubt there ever will be. I think the committee members worked well together to express their various concerns and to come to a consensus on some very difficult issues," she said.

She noted that each agency has been informed of its allocation and meetings are underway with the agencies to explain the rationale the committee used in determining each allocation.

"We believe we have greatly improved the Budget and Allocations process this year and will evaluate during the year what we did right and what we did wrong in attempting to further improve the process, so the public will know that the United Way is doing everything humanly possible to use the donations we receive to give the greatest possible assistance to the agencies which serve this community," Miss Quorton concluded.

Hearing on zoning restriction of parlors, ban on nude dancing

The times, they are a-changing, and the Madison County zoning ordinance is about to follow suit. Amendments proposed for the ordinance include a prohibition against nude dancing of any type.

ROCK CONCERTS, "beer blasts" and any other similar outdoor activities would need a special use permit. So would massage parlors.

A public hearing is set for 9 a.m. Feb. 4 in the Madison County Board room on these and other amendments to the zoning ordinance.

The current zoning carries no mention of nude dancing. It is already prohibited, though, according to county zoning administrator Paul Hawkins, in that a liquor license isn't issued to any bar or restaurant planning to feature nudity.

Also, existing bars and restaurants could lose their liquor licenses if they add nude dancing, he said.

HAWKINS said the proposed amendment came about after the county received inquiries from a person who wanted to open a topless bar.

Last April, after learning of a Godfrey tavern owner's plan to add nude dancing and topless waitresses, former assistant state attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith urged the County Board to draft an obscenity ordinance.

Smith had also learned of a massage parlor about to open near Worden. He said such an ordinance would provide the county and the businesses with a clear definition of obscenity.

The board has, as yet, not followed his suggestion.

MASSAGE PARLORS are currently listed in the zoning ordinance as a permitted use in B-1 limited business zones. The proposed amendment would delete this section and would require a special use permit to be obtained.

Rock concerts and beer parties aren't mentioned in the present ordinance.

Under proposed amendments, they would be allowed in commercial and agricultural districts, but only after receiving a special use permit.

Currently, Hawkins said, rock concerts are dealt with under amusement license provisions along with fairs, circuses and racetracks.

Not all the proposed changes to the zoning ordinance would be more restrictive than present laws.

DISKS FOR TV reception would become a permitted use in all zoning districts, for example. The current law doesn't mention the disks, a recent phenomenon.

Requirements for the surfacing of off-street parking and parking at storage and display areas would be less restrictive under the changes.

Currently, the ordinance requires a company store base of not less than four inches, topped with two inches of bituminous concrete or approved substitute.

The change, all off-street parking, storage and display areas — within a radius of two miles of restaurants, motels, service stations and other businesses which accommodate heavy trucks and equipment — are to be surfaced with aggregate, bituminous concrete or similar materials, but no depth of surface is stated.

Dust control, proper drainage and proper disposal of trash and debris are required in the parking lots.

ANOTHER PROPOSED change: The restoration of prehistoric stone artifacts would be a permitted use in B-1 limited business districts.

An employee of the county zoning office said this addition to the ordinance was suggested by a person living on the outskirts of Troy, who wanted to do the restoration in a barn.

The present law does not cover such a request. It was felt that others in the county also might want to do such restorations, the employee said.

In three zoning districts, use of freight cars would be allowed for storage, with a special use permit.

"WE'RE HAVING a rash of people buying old boxcars for storage of hay on farms," the zoning employee explained. With a special permit, the freight cars would be allowed in agricultural, limited business and limited manufacturing districts.

Large trailers for storage would become a permitted use in the same three zoning districts.

The Madison County Board land use committee and the county Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct the Feb. 4 hearing.

The county's zoning ordinance involves only unincorporated areas of Madison County.

YMCA selling bus

The Tri-City Area YMCA has a 60-passenger school bus for sale. The bus is a 1976 Chevy model, in good condition. The YMCA is asking $2,100 for the bus.

The bus could be used as a camper bus for a family. It would be large enough to accommodate several people, and could be converted very easily to a camper.

Anyone interested in seeing the bus may call Jerry Swatling, executive director of the YMCA, at 876-7200.

RING IS MISSING

The theft of a 14K white gold ring with a pearl and diamond on each side, valued at $200, was reported by Bonnie Johnston, 2249 Grand Ave.

Chouteau appeal for discretionary funds advancing

By RACHEL NEWSOME
for the Press-Record

Walter "Dick" Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township, reported the responses from area leaders concerning his previous letter requesting $14,500 from Madison County discretionary funds.

To date, Glenn Wilson, Village Board President of Pontiac Beach, Supervisor Harry Briggs of Nameoki Township and Mayor Tyrone Echols of Venice have returned a positive response.

Mayor Paul Schultz of Granite City relayed his intentions to call a meeting of area leaders to approve borrowing the money that Chouteau needs for his Terrace and Lakeview drainage project. Sparks said he had no detailed information on the meeting.

The project pertains to the preparation and installing of a new drainage system. In a letter from Juneau Associates, it was noted that the preparatory work had been completed and that the installation process could begin.

In other business, Sparks read a report entitled "Reducing the Deficit" from the National Association for Towns and Townships. The Association, predicting major financial problems with the impact on small town governments, asserted that the Reagan administration wants to cut funds for small towns and raise taxes.

"Everybody should keep their eyes open as to whether they will raise taxes and continue to cut. The result could hurt us," said Sparks. After reading a letter from Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals defining the agenda of a Feb. 4 meeting, the board discussed area zoning problems. Several board members complained about expansion of Granite City boundaries into Chouteau Township.

Addressing the complaints, Sparks said, "I'd like to see us all get busy and write to our senators and get them to do something before Granite City comes all the way out here."

The board's next meeting is scheduled for Monday, Feb. 4, 7 p.m. at the township offices, 697 N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell.

Secretary sues Weber, county

By JIM WOODCOCK

Madison County and its former state's attorney, Don Weber, are being sued by one of Weber's former employees who claims she was fired by Weber for political reasons in 1983.

Kristi Raneek is seeking in excess of $15,000 in compensatory damages and $100,000 in punitive damages and $100,000 in punitive damages for each of six counts in the lawsuit.

Weber and Madison County were each named in three counts.

The first two counts of the Circuit Court suit state that firing was in violation of her rights to freedom of speech and due process.

The suit also states that Kristi Raneek was fired either because she was a Democrat or because she knew Marvin Brown, a former Weber aide who was fired.

The suit said Weber received information Jan. 18, 1983, that Darling consulted with Attorney Amel Cueto regarding illegal or unethical acts allegedly committed by Weber while he was in office.

Miss Raneek was fired from her secretarial position later that day, the suit says. It contends she has been hindered in her attempt to find a new job, has suffered mental agony and emotional distress, has been denied her right to participate in a political process, and has suffered financial losses after being discharged by Weber.

The next two counts state that Darling was acting in a lawful manner when he contacted Cueto regarding Weber's conduct in office and that Miss Raneek had every right to be accompanied with Darling.

Darling provided information used by Cueto in a letter to Chief Circuit Judge A. A. Matosian, County Board members and state and county officials.

The letter contained 31 allegations against Weber, including use of county funds, paying employees for more hours than they worked, and prosecution of a rape defendant that Weber allegedly knew was innocent.

The letter led to a grand jury probe of Weber. No indictments resulted from the letter, but Weber was indicted on two official misconduct counts on another matter.

The indictments were later dismissed. Weber then filed a suit against Cueto seeking $1 million in damages and $3.1 million from Darling.

The final two counts in the lawsuit say Miss Raneek was fired by an agreement between Madison County and Local 799 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

The suit alleges Weber failed to provide written documentation as to why he fired her five days following the discharge, as is required by the contract between the county and AFSCME.

The suit also alleges that the contract was violated because she was not fired with just cause.

The lawsuit was filed by Attorney Michael Thompson of East St. Louis.

APA food program is a success

The Association for the Protection of Animals (APA) reports that its food drop-off program at the Granite City Schmuck's store has been successful.

The program, set up last summer, involves the donations of canned food, dry food, litter and treats for animals awaiting adoption at the APA Shelter. Shoppers at the store are given the opportunity to place their donations in a drop-off basket near the front of the store.

APA members remove the food donations twice weekly from the basket. This food nearly meets the requirements of the 50 animals which are housed at the shelter, located at 5000 Old Alton Road.

"The only food we have to purchase is canned cat and dog food," said Pat Anderson, co-president of the APA. "We are grateful for everything we receive, but we need more canned varieties, since this is mixed with the dry food to make it go farther. The canned food also makes the food tastier."

Mrs. Anderson added that the canned food is especially important to kittens and puppies, who may only be able to digest the softer canned food.

The food donations represent a sizeable savings to the non-profit organization, which is run entirely by volunteers. Money saved on the purchase of food is used to medicate the sick and injured animals. This money also aids in the cost of spaying and neutering shelter animals.

APA members will be placing a similar food drop-off basket in the Granite City Kroger store soon. They also hope to have a basket in the newly remodeled National Food Store.

Persons wishing to make cash donations to the APA should place their checks or cash in the food baskets. Instead, these donations should be mailed to Post Office Box 1311, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Sheep seminar is planned this Wednesday

By KENNETH METZ
Extension Adviser

Dr. Gary Ricketts, University of Illinois sheep specialist, will be in Madison County, Wednesday, Jan. 30, at 7:30 p.m. at the Farm Bureau Auditorium in Edwardsville. He will be discussing ewe nutrition, nutrition of lambs, and lamb health management and overall flock management. If you have a small or large flock, this will be a very good meeting to attend. Dr. Ricketts is known all over the United States for his knowledge of sheep production and he judges several major shows during the year. So, if you are a beginner or a veteran of the sheep business, this will be a good meeting for you to attend.

DHIA SUMMARY AVAILABLE

The Madison County Dairy Herd Improvement Association summary has been completed. It shows a total DHIA herd average of 14,374 pounds per cow versus a Madison County milk average of 11,111 pounds per cow, a difference of 3,263 pounds of milk per cow. This represents a sizeable figure and can mean the difference between a profit or loss. The pounds of milk average ranged from a high of 17,776 pounds of milk herd average to a low of 8,855 pounds of milk herd average.

The emphasis of the DHIA program is the use of records to manage the cow herd. By using records of feed costs, breeding services and milk averages, dairy producers can decide where to improve or where they can cut costs. If you are interested in the DHIA program, contact the Extension office in Edwardsville and we can help you.

INHIBITORS MAY BE NEEDED

Bob Hoelt, University of Illinois agronomist, suggests that if you apply nitrogen this spring to no-till corn, it might pay for a nitrification inhibitor, since the nitrogen can be lost to denitrification. Nitrification is a process in which nitrogen is altered to a form more susceptible to denitrification. Denitrification is a process in which nitrogen is lost to the air. He also says that the denitrification process is aided by organisms in the soil, and there are a greater concentration of denitrifying organisms in no-till fields than in fields conventionally tilled.

Also a University of Kentucky study showed a significant increase in no-till corn yields when nitrification inhibitors were used. If you don't use a nitrification inhibitor then you probably should increase your nitrogen rates slightly to make up for the loss of nitrogen due to denitrification.

If you are interested on this subject or anything dealing with soil fertility, on Feb. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the Farm Bureau Auditorium in Edwardsville, Bob Hoelt will be present to discuss soil fertility at the Soil Fertility Seminar. For more information, contact the Extension office at 1-656-8400.

Women's health is explored at seminar

A free seminar on "Women's Reproductive Health" has been scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 29, by the Student Program Board of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The seminar will be from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the Maple Room of the University Center. Barbara C. Martin, a clinical assistant in the SIUE School of Nursing, will conduct the program, which includes a 50-minute film titled "Women in the Middlecent Years."

MISS MARTIN has had more than four years' practice as a certified adult nurse practitioner in a health maintenance organization. She has taught community health in the undergraduate nursing program at SIUE for the past two years and currently is working on her doctoral dissertation in the area of patient education.

Man killed in Shell explosion identified

The Shell Oil Co. worker who was killed in last week's explosion at the company's Roxana refinery was identified Thursday afternoon as John E. Brown, 38, of Bethalto.

Mr. Brown, an operator of the processing unit that exploded, was the only fatality in the incident. A widow, Mr. Brown is survived by his 11-year-old son.

His body was pulled from the wreckage about five hours after the explosion occurred. He was burned so badly, that dental records had to be used to make positive identification.

Seven other workers were injured in the accident, with most suffering burns to their hands and face. The oil company's fire department had the blaze contained within an hour of the explosion, but the fire was still not completely extinguished late last week.

The area near the explosion was evacuated Thursday, but most of the refinery continued to operate as usual.

Shell has not issued an estimate of the damage.

Consultant feels he can solve groundwater problem here

Granite City aldermen are considering a proposal from a St. Louis engineering firm which promises to offer solutions to most of the groundwater problems experienced by Granite City residents.

Henry Reitz, co-owner of Reitz and Jens, Inc., consulting engineers, told city council members last week that his company is very interested in the water problem being experienced by Granite City.

HE FURTHER STATED that if hired, his firm could offer "real" solutions to some of the problems by the end of this year.

Reitz said he became interested in the Granite City groundwater problem after reading a copy of the study that is being done by the Corps of Engineers on the American Bottoms. "In the 1980s, the Corps says that it will be 1989 or 1990 before they offer any recommendations," he said.

"I think we can't wait that long," Reitz said.

Reitz said his company has been involved in groundwater problems in areas in Sauget and Macouh.

HE SAID HIS company would use new computer techniques in assessing the problem. "We would use the computer program to run routine tests," Reitz said. "The solutions you get to the problems depend on the assumptions you are going in with."

Reitz said his company would work on solutions that would alleviate the problem section by section, rather than treat the whole city as one area. "The reasons we prefer to take this approach is because 1) if you look for a solution to an area this big, chances are, you won't find a solution, and 2) some areas in the city just aren't as critical as others," he said.

The engineer said he currently has four or five leads concerning solutions to problems in the area. "I think they're worth looking into," he said.

REITZ SAID THE fee for his company's study would be between $30,000 and $40,000.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said he feels another study on the groundwater situation would be unwarranted. "I think we should put the money into sewer breaks, rather than spending money on another study," he said. He feels that the council has been educated by enough engineers to have a good knowledge of the groundwater problem.

Mayor Paul Schuler said he believes the study is worth consideration. "I'll have to disagree with Alderman Whitmer," he said. "Everything we've done so far (about the groundwater problem) has been a band-aid approach. We haven't really studied this thing as far as long-range solutions go.

"AND $30,000 TO $40,000 is not a lot of money when you consider what could be accomplished. I think this should be turned over to a committee for further study."

The matter was referred to the city street and alley committee.

Schuler said later that he thinks Community Development funds might be obtained for the study.

37 area students named as Illinois State Scholars

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission has just announced the 1985-86 Illinois State Scholars, including one from Madison High School and 36 from Granite City High School.

Commission officials say about 10 percent of the high school students sending test scores and high school class rankings for consideration in the program are named State Scholars and are granted a Certificate of Merit.

In order to enter the competition, high school students must take the ACT or SAT examination during their junior year of high school and have the scores sent to the commission. Selection of scholars is based on a combination of students' test scores and their class rankings at the end of their junior year.

Madison High School Senior Edward Zabolka has been named an Illinois State Scholar for 1985-86.

Students at Granite City High School named as Illinois State Scholars are David Aernie, Laura Andrews, Dawn Bieniecki, David Birkhead, Stephen Branding, Catherine Browning, Cathy Cliftler, Sherri Crown, Kenneth Dauer, Nancy Driedtloff, Linda DuPont, James Fritzel, Loretta Hamlett, Kathy Houba, Lois Hull, Patrick Hursey, Karen Hursey, Thomas Jordan, John Kane, John Kirkpatrick, Stephen Knogl, Mike Lewis, Robert Malench, Robert Matosian.

Emily McWhorter, David Menendez, Lori Mills, Tracy Nelson, Sherri Ousley, Christopher Reuter, Pam Robell, Charles Schwab, Gregory Smallie, Glenn Svoboda, Anne Voyles and Robert Weckback.
